• New for 2013 Continued!

It is hard to resist adding new products to our catalog. Some come to us from manufacturers and some are recommended by therapists, teachers and parents. We would not consider them unless we loved them ourselves and if we did not think they would be useful to you, our customers.

While the strong connection between movement and learning is well recognized nowadays, occupational and physical therapists still bemoan the fact that infants and toddlers do not get enough tummy time and crawling on hands and knees. These activities strengthen upper body, shoulders, and hands etc. and prepare children for the next stages of learning. Four new products, Play House Cube, Wall Mirrors with Pull Up Bar, Mirror Maze, and Infant Mirror Stand are ideal for these purposes. Best of all they are beautifully wood-crafted nearby in New Hampshire.

We have added lots and lots of fine motor activities. Tweezers are a great hand tool for improving hand skills and for preparing the hand for writing. Our Gator Tweezers are designed for the small hand (ages 2+) while Jumbo Tweezers are for older children (preschoolers and up). The Super Sorting Pie is a complete fun activity kit that uses the Jumbo Tweezers.

Froggy Feeding Fun is great for strengthening hand muscles. Use your other hand to "feed" Froggy to work on bilateral coordination (using both sides of the body in a coordinated way). Tricky Fish (2 types) combine bilateral coordination with motor planning, eye tracking and shoulder stabilization.

Adding new products is always exciting. But we leave the last word to you, our customers.
