• Everybody Loves Brain Gym!

Everybody loves Brain Gym: occupational therapists, physical therapists, teachers and parents. How else to explain the 80 plus attendees at last Saturday's Therapro Seminar, Solving the Puzzle: A Brain Gym Overview, presented by Pam Formosa, an occupational therapist and Brain Gym Certified Instructor. You can view part of her presentation here.

Educators have long recognized that movement activities prepare children for classroom learning and improve learning outcomes for many. In recent years, occupational therapists and physical therapists, in collaboration with teachers, have brought active learning into classrooms.

Brain Gym is perhaps the best known and most popular active learning program. Based on 26 Integrated Movements, children find the activities engaging and fun and teachers find the program easy to implement. At Therapro we believe that Brain Gym and other active learning programs offer students of different learning styles opportunities to take in more information and learn better.
