• Things That Are Weighted

Therapists, teachers and parents have come to recognize the therapeutic benefits of weighted products. With weighted products both children and adults find comfort, calming, attention and focus in their occupation; at home, school and daily activities. They have become an essential component in treating sensory processing disorders and autism. Therapro has responded by offering many new weighted products. The weighted products category has been reorganized into 6 subcategories: Weighted Vests, Weighted Shoulder Wraps, Animal Weighted Shoulder Weights, Weighted Lap Pads, Weighted Blankets and Weighted Games and Activities.

New additions include products designed for the lap. The Weighted Plush Snake is available in 2 sizes. Very versatile, it can be used for a lap pad, or on the shoulders, and even as a fun puppet. What a sweet face! A large Weighted Turtle (4 lbs., 18") can be treated as a pet, but its weight lends itself to heavy work activity. The Sit Tight Lap Pad has a strap to keep it in place, and the Weighted Sport Balls offer graded weight.

Sensory Bean Bags come in a set of 6 colorful, 4 oz+ beanbags. Different sensory fabrics cover each side, making them unique. They can be used in all bean bag activities and also as fidgets.

Weighted products can be useful in a large variety of activities. Our categories are offered as guidelines. Your own imagination may be a better guide!
