About the Author

Regina G. Richards, M.A. is a Director of Richards Educational Therapy Center and Big Springs School, which specializes in multidisciplinary programs for language learning disabilities, especially dyslexia and dysgraphia. As an educational therapist, she has been practicing in Riverside, California, since 1975. She began her career in bilingual education, working on curriculum development and test design, and has authored a variety of journal articles and books on visual development, reading, dyslexia, and dysgraphia. She was president of the Inland Empire Branch of the International Dyslexia Association for seven years and has been editor of the annual IDA California Cosortium's Resource Directory since 1992. Since 1970, she has presented workshops and classes at the University of California Extension Programs at both the Riverside and San Diego campuses and she speaks at conferences and workshops nationally. The Source for Dyslexia and Dysgraphia is Regina's first publication with LinguiSystems.
